Creative Framing presents an exclusive exhibit of Hawaiian art by

JIM MAYNE FREEHEART

Boulder Artist Jim Freeheart (1993-2006) now a Maui resident, will be returning for the opening of his first showing of Hawaii Paintings outside of the Islands. Affordable giclee prints and small Maui paintings will accompany larger brush and finger-painted pieces in this colorful, tropical show Jim is widely known for his vibrant colorful paintings. A few years ago, Jim began an innovative series of acrylics—Finger-Painting! "Finger-Painting is a wondrous dance with both hands on the canvas, like playing a piano with color! I haven't been so excited since I began painting!" His first one was done on the Pearl St. Mall in Boulder. Maui pieces will be at the Creative Framing Gallery prior to the June 5th opening.

LINDSEY STILLINGER

Lindsey is a fiber artist with an eye for beauty. The rich colors and textures of fabric bring joy to her senses and endless amusement at all the amazing ways they might be combined. She has adapted basic theory and skills into a powerful artistic voice that is uniquely her own. Lindsey loves to work with exotic batiks and hand-dyed fabrics to create pieces generally between 2 and 4 feet "in-square." Much of her work is designed to hang as dramatic wall art.

Wear something Hawaiian and come meet the Artists!
